Relatable dating issues made funny & entertaining

Brings out real & authentic insights in the first date

High repeatability potential with strong visual identity

3 fabulous drag queens come to the rescue of 1 hopeless single who has been looking for love in all the wrong places.

Using their wild personalities and insights from both worlds, our marvelous mentors will pick her up for a night of fun and romance and together they will audition 4 potential suitors. The queens will cut through the nonsense of a first date and help her on her way to finding love! And who wouldn't want these direct divas by their side - digging deep with their tough questions and making sure that all secrets are revealed! After each date, they will analyze, discuss and critique the suitor – holding nothing back in their attempt to find “Mr. Right”. At the end of the night, the queens will decide which man is the right fit – helping her break her bad dating streak once-and-for-all!

Dating doesn't have to be a drag!
